West Java Province lies between 5°50’ - 7°50’S and 104°48’ - 108°48’E. West Java is bordered by the Java Sea and DKI Jakarta (North), Central Java Province (East), the Indian Ocean (South) and Banten Province and the Indian Ocean (West). West Java’s positioning is strategic and is an advantage especially for communication and transportation.

West Java’s total area is 35,746.26 km². The topography of the province’s regions varies greatly: in the north the land is flat, while the south is hilly with beaches and the central region is mountainous. The mountains of West Java are steep and can reach an altitude of more than 1,500 meters above sea level with the highest point being the strato volcano Mount Cereme standing at 3,078 meters above sea level. In the South the hills are moderate with an elevation of 100 - 1,500 meters above sea level and the flat regions of the north has an elevation between 0 - 10 meters above sea level.

West Java has a tropical climate with temperatures reaching 9°C at the Peak of Mount Pangrango and 34°C at the beach. The average amount of rainfall is 3.6 to 332.8 millimeters per year. (Source: Jawa Barat Dalam Angka 2012)
