Drought update (cont.)

- None of the girls aged 6-12 years old in the 400 surveyed households are attending school, whereas 71% (435 out of 609) of the boys attend school.
- In none of 20 surveyed communities is there a school available for the girls.
- Drought has forced a majority of households to employ negative strategies to cope with the lack of food – 96.5% of them have married off their daughters early to cope with the lack of income.
- In 30.8% of households, children missed school days because of collecting water.
