SITUATION OVERVIEW

The humanitarian situation in Mali continues to worsen. There is increasing population movements due to violence linked to insecurity. By the end of February, total IDPS reached 218,000. At the beginning of 2020, more than 7,500 Nigerien and Burkinabe refugees have arrived due to growing insecurity in the Liptako-Gourma region. In addition, more than 4,000 Malian refugees have returned from Burkina Faso due to the situation in the same region. In March 2020, Mali has experienced additional caseloads brought by COVID-19. The pandemic has slowed down operations as humanitarian partners had to adjust and adapt ways of working as precautionary measures were taken. This has resulted to new operational challenges and increase in operational costs.
