The civilian population remains the first victim of the renewed tensions and violence observed in the country since the end of 2020.

The decline in incidents affecting humanitarian aid workers in February reflects a certain improvement in the cities that are once again under the control of the authorities.

Bossangoa (13 incidents) and Kaga-Bandoro (8 incidents) were the most affected sub-prefectures. It should be noted that no incidents were observed in Bangassou, where the situation has clearly improved.

26 incidents out of 49 (53%) were related to thefts, robberies, and looting. One NGO staff was killed in Bambari and another detained in Kaga-Bandoro. No vehicle theft was reported.
